Questions 1 - 5 : Read the excerpt from 'The Danger of a Single Story' and answer the questions that follow.

5x1=5

I must say that before I went to the U.S., I didn't consciously identify as African. But in the U.S., whenever Africa came up, people turned to me. I did come to embrace this identity, and in many ways I think of myself now as African, although I still get quite irritable when Africa is referred to as a country. After I had spent some years in the U.S. as an African, I began to understand my roommate's response to me. If I had not grown up in Nigeria, and if all I knew about Africa were from popular images, I too would think that Africa was a place of beautiful landscapes, beautiful animals, and incomprehensible people unable to speak for themselves and waiting to be saved by a kind, white foreigner. I would see Africans in the same way that I, as a child, had seen Fide's family.

1. Why didn't Adichie consciously identify herself as an African before she went to the U.S.?
2. When did Adichie embrace the identity of an African?
3. According to the passage, what is generally the single story of Africa from popular images?
4. What was Adichie's reaction when Africa was referred to as a country?
5. Identify a word from the passage which means 'not able to be understood'.

'And is the poor man dead ?' he cried
 'He died an hour ago.'
 The old priest Peter Gilligan
 In grief swayed to and fro.

'When you were gone, he turned and died,
 As merry as a bird.'
 The old priest Peter Gilligan
 He knelt him at that word.

6. Who is the priest enquiring about ?
7. Why did the old priest sway in grief ?
8. Pick out an instance of simile from the given stanzas.
9. Identify the rhyme scheme of the given lines.
10. Read the lines from the poem 'Mother to Son' and prepare a note of appreciation analysing the theme, imagery and other significant poetic devices. 5

But all the time
 I've been a-climbin' on,
 And reachin' landin's,
 And turnin' corners,
 And sometimes goin' in the dark
 Where there ain't been no light.
 So, boy, don't you turn back.
 Don't you set down on the steps.
 'cause you find it's kinder hard.

Questions 11 - 15 : Read the passage given below and answer the questions that follow. 5x1=5

Featuring animals or objects with human-like qualities and characteristics is known as anthropomorphic animation. From classic shows like Looney Tunes and Tom and Jerry to more recent animated films like Finding Nemo, Zootopia and The Lego Movie, they've been around for decades.

Anthropomorphism is frequently used in these films to add a sense of humour, emotion, and relatability to their stories. Anthropomorphic animation also aids in character connection by making the characters more relatable because they act more human. This type of storytelling is incredibly effective when used to promote meaningful messages such as environmental awareness, racial equality, and conflict resolution.

Because of their universal appeal, anthropomorphic animation enables film makers to create meaningful stories that transcend language barriers and cultural norms. Finally, anthropomorphic animation provides a user-friendly medium for entertainment and education that can inspire people from all walks of life.

11. What is anthropomorphic animation ?
12. Name a few recent films in the passage that have used the technique of anthropomorphic animation.
13. Why is this kind of storytelling effective ?
